

Preparation for the European Certificate in Nephrology requires a wide breadth of knowledge around the curriculum and should involve reading of textbooks, journals and guidelines.

Suggested sources and reading are listed below:

Journals

- American Journal of Kidney Diseases
- Clinical Nephrology
- Journal of the American Society of Nephrology (and sister clinical journal)
- Kidney International
- Nephrology, Dialysis and Transplantation
- Transplant International
- Transplantation

Textbooks

- American Journal of Kidney Disease – publishes the US core curriculum in nephrology which gives detailed notes across the entire renal curriculum
- Comprehensive Clinical Nephrology (Eds Feehally, Floege, Johnson)
- Handbook of Kidney Transplantation (Eds Danovitch et al)
- Oxford Handbook of Dialysis (Eds Levy et al)
- Oxford Textbook of Nephrology (Eds Davison et al)

Websites

- Doctors.net.uk
- Edinburgh Renal Unit
- European Renal Association
- Hypertension, Dialysis, Clinical Nephrology
- Nephrology discussion group
- The Nephron Information Center
- UK Renal Association
- UK Renal Registry
- Ukidney

Publications

- Lappin D, Cannata-Andia JB. Updated Programme for harmonization of training in nephrology in the European Union. Clin Kidney J 2013; 6:116-121