INTRODUCTION

HIV: Challenges Overcome and Yet to Come

The 22nd International AIDS Conference in Amsterdam provides an unique opportunity to not only reflect on the progress made in HIV care over the past 30 years, but also to look ahead to challenges that still need to be overcome. During this evening symposium, we will evaluate and address the current and future challenges in HIV care in the Netherlands from an epidemiological, patient's, and health-care professional's perspective. We would like to cordially invite you to come join this symposium and discussion on the evening of July 26th, at the Strand Zuid Amsterdam.

Kind regards,
Dr. Annemaries Wensing
Prof. Kees Brinkman
