Introducing Connect for Care 2018

Building on the success of last year's meeting, we will bring together specialist hematology, immunology and LSD nurses from around the world to explore how the standards in rare disease nursing can be raised through personalised care. The engaging and informative programme will include dynamic sessions covering tailored and disease-specific education. We will also look at new and empowering technology that can be used in the management of rare diseases and share best practice examples from around the world.

The meeting will start with an evening welcome session on Sunday 18th November and conclude by lunchtime on Tuesday 20th November.

Share your journey and showcase your work!

We invite you to share your unique experiences of working within rare disease nursing by submitting case studies and/or posters to be presented or displayed during the meeting.

More information and templates for delegate submissions will be available from your local Shire contact in due course. The deadline for all submissions is Friday 14th September 2018.
