

Virtual Connected Education

SAVE THE DATE!

Monday 20 May 2019 • 18:00 - 20:00 CET • 13:00 - 15:00 South America

Meeting: Gastric Cancer

Eli Lilly invites you to an interactive, virtual meeting on the topic

Translating Evidence to Everyday Clinical Practice for Patients with Advanced Gastric Cancer

to discuss the clinical implications for patients with gastric cancer of the latest research. Connecting sites across Europe and South America, this meeting will provide the opportunity to follow lectures presented by an expert faculty, as well as to participate in the discussion between sites, ask the speakers questions, and share your opinions on various clinical cases.

Locations

São Paulo, Brazil • Italy • Argentina • Netherlands

Virtual Connected Education

SAVE THE DATE!

Monday 20 May 2019 • 18:00 - 20:00 CET • 13:00 - 15:00 South America

Meeting: Gastric Cancer

AGENDA

Translating Evidence to Everyday Clinical Practice for Patients with Advanced Gastric Cancer

Introduction and welcome Tulio Pfiffer, Brazil

Optimising sequencing and treatment selection strategies for patients with advanced gastric and GEJ cancer Tulio Pfiffer, Brazil

Importance of nutritional assessment and support for the management of patients with advanced gastric and GEJ cancer Riccardo Caccialanza, Italy

Clinical case discussions – Managing patients with advanced gastric and GEJ cancer Connecting sites

Summary and close Tulio Pfiffer, Brazil