

Dear colleagues!

We are pleased to invite you to the 1st Congress of the Azerbaijan Otorhinolaryngology Society (AOS) and the Central and West Asian Otorhinolaryngology Head and Neck Surgery Association (CASOS), which will be held from 10 to 12 April 2020 in Baku (AOS & CASOS 1st congress).

Today, as in all other areas of medicine, information in the field of otorhinolaryngology is growing rapidly, followed by technological developments. The exchange of this knowledge is very important for both researchers and doctors. We hope that our congress will be a platform where our respected participants will share information and experience.

The official website of the Congress is www.orldcongress.az . All information about the congress is distributed on the site. Registration for the congress, hotel accommodation can be done through the site. You can also send abstracts for the congress from the same site. Submitted abstracts will be published in Congress materials.

We wish and hope for the participation of many of our long-standing friends as speakers and participants. It is planned to hold panels and courses (workshops) to increase the level of knowledge of our young colleagues. The official languages of the congress are Azerbaijani and English. For official languages, simultaneous translation is planned.

Our congress is also a platform for social sharing. In addition to the scientific program, cultural events are planned during the congress. In addition to participating in a wonderful scientific event, you will have the opportunity to get acquainted with the beauty of the ancient city of Baku, which is located on the intersection of the east and west. Information will be provided on the site.

We'll glad to meet you in Baku.

Prof. Nazim Huseynov,
Congress President

Assoc.Prof. Ramil Hashimli,
Secretary of the Congress,
Secretary General of CASOS
