

Final programme Amsterdam Sports Cardiology Course 2020 – Digital edition

A live event will be organized at the Johan Cruijff ArenA on August 28th 2020. In light of the COVID-19 pandemic, the event will follow the guidelines of the national health committee (RIVM) to ensure a safe participation. This event will kick off with a local programme in which the implications of sports and COVID-19 are highlighted, and will end with interactive case discussions.

Following the local programme, the live webinar will be broadcast. The webinar will be accessible for all registered participants across the world. It will include 3 unique case presentations, with subjects that directly tie in to the keynote lectures. The cases will be discussed by the local chairs, the live audience, and digitally. Registered participants will be able to interact with the speakers through the digital chat to participate in the discussion. The day will end on a competitive note with an ECG-quiz presented by Professor Arthur Wilde.

In the month of August, sequential release of recorded key note lectures:

- Inherited cardiomyopathies in athletes: a ticking timebomb? – Prof. William McKenna, MD, PhD

Extra informatie voor accreditatie:

Het programma bestaat uit on demand keynote lectures die in de maand augustus op de website beschikbaar komen.

Om de volledige accreditatiepunten (6 punten) te verkrijgen moeten alle deelnemers het volledige dagprogramma op 28 augustus volgen. Daarnaast moeten zij alle keynote lectures die op de website beschikbaar zijn volgen (half uur per lecture) en vervolgens de bijbehorende toetsvragen beantwoorden die aan deze 5 lectures zijn gekoppeld.

Op het platform kunnen wij controleren of de deelnemers alle lectures daadwerkelijk hebben gevolgd en alle toetsen hebben gedaan.
