Abstract submission

The NCHIV21virtual abstract submission portal will open 24 August 2021 and close on 24 September 2021.

Abstract submissions may include results from original research across all scientific disciplines, relevant to the themes of the conference (HIV pathogenesis, epidemiology, prevention and treatment), and conducted by researchers from Dutch institutions working either in or outside the Netherlands. Given that 2021 marks a special year - 40 years HIV - any research submissions which touch on this theme are also very much welcomed.

Watch out for further details on how to submit your abstract on www.nchiv.org.

About NCHIV

NCHIV serves as platform for stakeholders in the Netherlands to share and discuss the latest insights and developments in research concerning the pathogenesis, epidemiology, prevention and treatment of HIV. The annual program hosted in English, includes invited lectures, presentations of original research and sessions which link research to societal impact and policy development by a faculty of national and international speakers.
